

BARNARD BOY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

NIAL WYATT, HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT, SUSTAINS GASH ON KNEE

3 OTHERS ARE UNINJURED

Ford Roadster Goes Through Fence Five and One-Half Miles Southeast of City

Nial Wyatt, age 18, a high school student of Barnard, was seriously injured in an automobile accident at 6:30 o'clock last evening when the Ford car which he was driving went off the road and tore through the fence on the Savannah road about five and one-half miles southeast of Maryville.

Wyatt sustained a dangerous gash nearly five inches long on his right knee that went into the flesh. Dr. H. S. Rowlett of this city was called to the scene of the accident and dressed the injured limb.

Wyatt, with three other Barnard young people, Earl Roscoe, and the Misses Bertha Kimes and Alice Buie, who are also high school students, were coming to Maryville from Barnard in a new Ford roadster. Automobile drivers who were near the place say that the Ford was traveling at a high rate of speed. When the Ford reached the turn just at a point in front of the United States Rubber Co. sign the car went off into the ditch and turned over on the top, pinning the occupants underneath. The boy who was not injured crawled out and managed to push the car over. It had gone through the fence just a few feet west of the sign before it had stopped.

This is the same place on the Savannah road that an automobile accident occurred the later part of August when a negro minister of McAllister, Okla., was killed.

Joe Skidmore, who lives east of this place took Wyatt to his home in the evening. The only damage done to the Ford was the top, which was badly smashed.

The car was started and was taken back to Barnard under its own power.

A dinner will be served at the noon hour, by the women of the local church under the direction of Mrs. Ed Hamlin, assisted by visiting women from the other churches of the county. NEED ROOMS FOR VISITING TEACHERS

MARYVILLE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAKES APPEAL.

1500 WILL BE HERE

Every Family Having Spare Rooms Should Notify Chamber of Commerce Office Immediately.

The Maryville Chamber of Commerce is appealing to the citizens of the city for a listing of all available rooms to take care of the 1500 teachers who will be here this week attending the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association.

The teachers will begin arriving in Maryville Wednesday night, and a large number of rooms are needed to take care of the visitors.

The annual meeting of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association in Maryville means much to the town, the College and the teachers. If the teachers are well cared for while here, they will return for the next year's meeting and the number coming to Maryville will increase year after year.

There are 3,000 teachers in the Northwest Missouri district and it is not at all improbable that in future years, this entire number will attend the annual three-day meeting in Maryville.

Every family in Maryville who has a spare room should notify the Chamber of Commerce immediately as rooms will be very much in demand for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. The committee on rooms will direct the teachers to the various homes. The Chamber of Commerce requests that 50 cents per night per person be the maximum charge for the rooms.

The program to be given at the 1923 meeting of the Northwest Missouri Association compares quite favorably to that to be given at the state meeting at St. Louis and also to the other district meetings to be given in the state this year. Because of this, a great many teachers will come to Maryville in preference to the state meeting at St. Louis.

Seventy Members Are Expected To Be Present At Meeting Tonight—Hold Legal Conferences

Oklahoma City, Oct. 8.—Members of the Oklahoma legislature will meet in caucus here tonight, it was learned this afternoon. The nature and purpose of the caucus and the place where the meeting will be held has not been disclosed.

Approximately seventy members are expected to attend. Legal conferences to formulate every step so that useless procedure will be avoided, were being held this afternoon.

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 8.—The departure of a captain and a small group of national guardsmen this morning officially ended martial law which has been in effect in this county since August 17.

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 8.—Martial law, which came suddenly upon Tulsa county on August 14, passed quietly away in the early hours of yesterday morning.

The military force which at one time numbered close to 500 officers and men, when removed yesterday by order of Acting Adjutant General Charles E. McPherson, consisted of less than a score of enlisted men and four officers. So gradual has been the removal of the troops, that Tulsans scarcely were conscious of the steady diminution of the forces—until yesterday, when they woke up and found them gone. So gentle was the fadeout that even railroad dispatchers and station agents who handled the homeward bound soldiers were not aware that the martial regime had ended.

Filed 30 Informations.

Flogging cases unheeded by the Tulsa military; commission numbered 121 at the time of the last public statement from the inquiry board, dated Sept. 23. Of thirty informations filed by the military in the county or district courts, 14 have reached the stage of preliminary hearing. Because important state witnesses were missing in the court hearings, five of the fourteen cases have been dismissed for want of evidence; and two have been indefinitely postponed, for the same reason. The remaining seven men have been held for criminal trial and charges of riot.

Six witnesses who disappeared late in September after having told their stories to the military commission, still were missing without trace as the investigation closed. Leonard and Floyd Cook, brothers, and their wives, and Eugene Goolsby and Mrs. Myrtle Spain, are those missing. They have been sought by troops in four counties, since Sept. 29 and Sept. 22, respectively.

Turntable Airplane Landing Has 500-Foot Runway

Keeping pace with the rapid progress made recently in the development of airways, a landing stage has been designed that automatically heads into the wind and possesses other unique and practical features. This airplane landing can be set to remain stable in all light breezes, and then switch itself into automatic control at any predetermined wind speed. This feature is highly important, for the aviator must head into the wind to make a safe landing.

Another advantage lies in the fact that the plane is able to "hop off" into the wind from a standing start, at any required speed, according to wind conditions. The plane is restrained in stays in the starting room, its engines speeded up to the desired point, and then automatically released. The receiving controls for the landing of planes actuate a moving platform, so that an airplane will land, not with a shock, but with a gliding motion. Landing platforms are about 500 feet in over-all length, and from 60 to 80 feet wide.

Smell to Lure Boll Weevil To Its Death

Government chemists are now at work on a new method of attack on the cotton-boll weevil. An attempt is to be made to find out whether any odor from the cotton plant attracts the weevil, and just what it is. It is then hoped to duplicate the odor in the laboratory, and lure the insect to its doom with poisoned bait, if necessary.

Electric Pen Writes in Gold or Silver

Gold, silver, or other colored designs or writing can be made on wood, leather, paper, ivory, parchment, silk, or metal, by a new electrically operated pen. The pen is attached to any lamp socket by means of a flexible cord, and is operated by running the electrically heated point over a sheet of colored transfer paper. The pen is insulated so that no current comes in contact with the user or the material with which he is working. The heat of the hot point can be regulated so that a maximum of 900° F. can be reached. The pen is no larger than an ordinary fountain pen.

Skirt Used as Grass Bag

An old wide dress skirt, with the belt cut off, and the bottom stitched across makes an excellent bag for carrying lawn rakes. Several bushels of mown grass can be carried in it conveniently, as it is short and wide, and does not weigh as much as a basket.

Great interest is being displayed by physicians in a new drug, known as trypanamid, which is claimed to have proved a cure for parasites.

Working on Side of Building

The method of working on the wall of a building as shown in the illustration is used by circus-bill posters to put up their signs in places that are otherwise nearly inaccessible. Two ladders are used; one is laid on the roof, and projects a few feet beyond the edge; the other is lashed to the projecting end, and hangs vertically. One man remains on the extreme inner end of the horizontal ladder, while another climbs down the vertical ladder, the weight of the first man keeping the whole arrangement in position. The horizontal ladder should not project over the edge of the roof more than one-fourth or one-fifth of the entire length of this ladder and the man holding it down must apply his weight at the extreme inner end; he must be about equal to the other man in weight. In this way he will be able to hold the man on the ladder securely.

Cleaning Rusty Crosscut Saws

An excellent method of cleaning and polishing an old rusty crosscut saw is as follows: Drill a vertical hole in the center of a small stump, and also saw a cut across it, passing through the hole; the depth of this cut should equal the width of the saw, minus the teeth. Invert the saw in the cut, allowing the teeth to project above the surface of the stump. Fill the hole around the saw with fine sand and moisten with a little water. By working the saw as if sawing, it will quickly be scoured as clean and bright as when new.

Missouri has the oldest fruit tree nursery in the United States and the largest in the world.

No other state in the union is more nearly self supporting in so many of the essentials in agricultural, industrial and commercial lines.

More than two million acres of rich bottom land have been reclaimed up to this time, at an approximate cost of $14,000,000. There is more than that area still to be reclaimed and made available for agriculture and fruit growing.

Kansas is the "Sunflower State" but Missouri grows more sunflower seed for commercial distribution than any other state.

Southwest Missouri is the new wonderland of grapes and with more than one hundred thousand acres in vineyards whose rich purple fruit rivals that of California in delicious flavor.

Missouri has the largest tobacco factory, the largest terra cotta plant, the largest lead works, the largest hay market and the largest raw fur market in the world.

"The Schools of Missouri are as good as they are because of the support given them. Better support can come only as aroused public opinion warrants. This, as I see it, can be greatly assisted by The Missouri Association of Schools."

NOV. 18 BEGINS EDUCATION WEEK

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR OBSERVANCE THROUGHOUT NATION

WEEK HELD EACH YEAR

"From Beginning America Has Been Devoted To Education," Says President Coolidge

President Coolidge has issued a proclamation calling for observance of the week beginning November 18 as National Education Week, according to reports from Washington. Education week is held each year under the joint auspices of the National Education Association, the United States Bureau of Education and the American Legion. The proclamation follows:

"From its earliest beginnings America has been devoted to the cause of education. This country was founded on the ideal of ministering to the individual. It was realized that this must be done by the institutions of religion and government. In order that there might be a properly educated clergy and well trained civil magistrates, one of the first thoughts of the early settlers was to provide for a college of liberal culture, while for general diffusion of knowledge, primary schools were established. This course was taken as the necessary requirement of enlightened society.

"Such a policy, once adopted, has contributed to grow in extent. With the adoption of the Federal Constitution and the establishment of free governments in the States of the Union, there was additional reason for broadening the opportunity for education. Our country adopted the principle of self government by a free people. Those who were worthy of being free were worthy of being educated. Those who had the duty and responsibility of government must necessarily have the education with which to discharge the obligation of citizenship. The sovereign had become the people. Schools and universities were provided by the various governments and founded and fostered by private charity, until their buildings dotted all the land.

"The willingness of the people to bear the burdens of maintaining these institutions and the patriotic devotion of an army of teachers who, in many cases, might have earned larger incomes in other pursuits, have made it possible to accomplish results with which we may well be gratified; it has only been begun.

"We have observed the evidence of a broadening vision of the whole educational system. This has included a recognition that education must not end with the period of school attendance, but must be given every encouragement thereafter. To this end the night schools of the cities, the moonlight schools of the Southern Appalachian countries, the extension work of the colleges and universities, the provision for teaching technical, agricultural and mechanical arts, have marked out the path to broader and more widely diffused national culture. To insure the permanence and continuing improvement of such an educational policy, there must be the fullest public realization of its absolute necessity.

"Every American citizen is entitled to a liberal education. Without this there is no guarantee for the permanence of free institutions, no hope of perpetuating self government. Despotism finds its chief support in ignorance. Knowledge and freedom go hand in hand.

"In order that the people of the nation may think on these things, it is desirable that there should be an annual observance of Educational Week.

"Now, therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge,

President of the United States do hereby proclaim the week beginning on the eighteenth day of November, next, as National Education Week and urge its observance throughout the country. I recommend that the state and local authorities co-operate with the civic and religious bodies to secure its most general and helpful observance, for the purpose of more liberally supporting and more effectively improving the educational facilities of our country."

TO MAKE INQUIRY SCHOOL CONDITIONS

COMMITTEES AT JEFFERSON CITY DISCUSS EDUCATION

PRES LAMKIN MEMBER

Educators Believe Elementary Course of Study is More Up-to-date Than High School Curriculums

Uel W. Lamkin, president of the State Teachers College at Maryville, returned yesterday from Jefferson City where he has been in a two days' conference of two committees of educators that was called by state superintendent of schools, Charles A. Lee.

The first committee of which President Lamkin was a member, discussed certain phases of education in the state with a view of making a co-operative inquiry into educational conditions that exist in the state at present. There were three points which will be considered; first, the certification of teachers; second, the supervision of instruction in the schools; and third, school support, that is how much the schools are costing and what benefit is derived from the investment made in the schools of the state.

A lay committee which will be comprised of eleven members, will soon be appointed by Superintendent

Lee in the near future to direct the work of this co-operative inquiry. The work of this committee will be the discussion of a complete revision of the courses of study that is now in present use in the high schools of Missouri. It is generally believed by Missouri educators that the elementary curriculum of the grade schools is more nearly up-to-date at present than the courses of study now in vogue in the high schools. In preparation of the course of study that will be made by subjects a committee for each subject will be appointed by Mr. Lee to formulate a course of study for that certain subject. All these plans that will be formulated by the different committees will be put together and compiled by the state superintendent of schools.

In this work the general directive committee is composed of George Melcher, director of research and assistant superintendent of the Kansas City schools; M. G. Neal, dean of Education at the University of Missouri; and Uel W. Lamkin, president of the Northwest State Teachers College located at Maryville.

Mrs. Vern Henson of Ravenwood was a business visitor today in Maryville.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Crater and Mrs. M. L. Bentley of Ravenwood and Mrs. J. W. Bentley of Sterling, Colo., were shopping in Maryville Saturday.
